

ABSTRACT

This research is study to microcontroller to develop application in lighting control system. Which can be reduce the Electric wire in lighting system.

The project is expected the new lighting system which can be developed to the actual lighting system.

